

The CVI™ Ladder – Discovering Your Core Value of Focus

Write your four core values scores where each score fits on this ladder, e.g. Power 33, Love 24, ...
 Then compute the difference between each score and the score below it, e.g. $33-24 = 9$.

Your Wired in Challenge(s)

If your score for a core value in the Core Values Index™ is ...

36 ... you almost always operate in line with these core values
26 25 ... you ordinarily and regularly operate in line with these core values, and you find it energizing.
19 18 ... you occasionally and with effort operate in line with these core values.
12 11 ... you almost never operate in line with these core values and you find it de-motivating.
1

Now you can see how you tend to operate. You can see why it is easy or hard for you to shift among different strategies, or perhaps why you can hardly imagine operating with a particular strategy at all.
